29th October 2021

Dear Parents / Carers,

We have started our new topic Hola Mexico! As next week is Dia de los Muertos, on Tuesday 2nd of November, we will be having our memorable experience day. During the day, we will be making salsa, guacamole, homemade tortillas and churros to taste, creating some Aguas Frescas, making marigolds and having a parade. We will also be watching Coco, which is a PG rated film.

We will be dressing up for the day and would love the children to dress up as well.

Day of the Dead costumes are similar to Halloween, but not exactly the same. Girls wear pretty dresses with flowers and veils while boys wear smart clothes with skeleton masks. We will be making masks in school, children can wear smart clothes on the day to join in with the celebration.

Please can you let us know if your child has any food allergies or if you do not want them to watch the film.

Yours sincerely

Miss Pike & Miss Colbourne
